The firm of Jarvis, Putty & Jarvis has been selected to design a new courthouse and jail for Collin County, if Tuesday's $7.5 million bond election is approved. The drawing above is a representation of what the county court might look like, while the artist's conception below is that of one possible design for the new facilities. Both of the buildings would be designed for easy expansion by the addition of more stories and the jail and courthouse will probably be connected by a second story security corridor.

Voters Consider County Facilities

$7,500,000 Bond Program

BY PAM TROBOY
Staff Writer

Dilapidated conditions in Collin County's courthouse and jail are once again the focus of attention.

Voters will be asked Tuesday to approve $7.5 million in bonds for the renovation of the present courthouse and the construction of a new courthouse and jail facility.

During the past year, the county has received extensive publicity—none of it favorable—on the deteriorating structures. The courthouse has been called a hazard by the state fire marshal and at least four jail breaks in the past year have been effected by pushing the bars out of crumbling cells. Two prisoners have even filed suit in U.S. District Court charging that conditions in the jail are such that confinement in Collin County is a cruel and unusual punishment.

This summer the commissioners court authorized a study to determine the extent of the county's needs and requirements to provide adequate governmental services. A committee of about 200 citizens recommended that the present courthouse be remodeled as a county office building and that a new courthouse and jail be constructed within walking distance of the present facility. Plans were also made for a branch courthouse in Plano.

Election Called

The commissioners endorsed the proposal and called the bond election to be held in conjunction with the general election. Two propositions will be on the ballot: the issuance of $7,250,000 in courthouse and jail building bonds; and the issuance of $250,000 in bonds to remodel the present courthouse as a county office building.

If the bond issue is approved, the county is also expected to provide a branch courthouse in Plano at an estimated cost of $125-150,000. Such a facility would be constructed from cash funds, however, since the 1970 census figures show Plano's population insufficient to use bond funds under state law. A subcommittee of the citizens advisory committee has recommended that the branch courthouse be constructed in conjunction with the new Chamber of Commerce building across from the municipal building.

The passage of both propositions was endorsed by the Plano City Council this week. In a resolution signed Wednesday, the six members of the council noted that Collin County is "in desperate need of a new courthouse and jail" and pointed out that the need for a Plano sub-courthouse is "equally evident." Each member urged the citizens of Plano to vote in favor of the propositions.

It's Inadequate

Built in 1874 and remodeled in 1927, the courthouse is inadequate both in building space and parking to serve the needs of a rapidly expanding population, the committee found. The 1970 federal census recorded a Collin County population of 66,920; and, according to the North Central Texas Council of Governments, the population has grown to 84,961 residents as of Jan. 1, 1974—more than twice the 1960 population of 42,274.

Engineering and architectural studies have shown that it is economically infeasible to expand the present building, but it has been conservatively estimated that the courthouse alone needs at least 25,000 square feet additional space and the jail is complete obsolete.

Perhaps the commissioners court is the most visible victim of overcrowding. The county judge must probate wills and administer county government in a 9-by-18 office, while the four commissioners work in one room, 17-by-21. When the commissioners court meets, the same room must accommodate the five members plus the county clerk, the county auditor, a court reporter, parties with business to transact, the public and the news media. A consultant has estimated that the county judge and commissioners need an additional 2,028 square feet just to meet 1972 space requirements. The consultant also recommends a 2,000 square foot county courtroom.

The same consultant has recommended that the present county clerk's office of 2,041 square feet be expanded to at least 5,000 square feet. The office's workload has been increased eight times over that in 1940, although instruments affecting title to county real estate are still filed, recorded, stored and serviced in practically the same amount of space allocated 34 years ago.

Tax Office, Too

Tax office work has also shown a substantial increase without a corresponding increase in space available. All land in Collin County was divided into 8,931 separate

For Coveted "Katie" Award

Former Staffer is Finalist

Terri Anderson, former reporter and feature writer for the Daily Star-Courier is one of three finalists competing for a coveted "Katie" award for Best Spot News Story, in the 16th annual Communications Awards Contest of the Press Club of Dallas.

Miss Anderson, currently a student at Richland Junior College, was nominated for the award by the Star-Courier because of her Dec. 2 article which first revealed the plight of Charles (Junior) Glover, the 17-year-old robbery suspect who was "lost" in the Collin County jail system for more than two months.

Glover had been arrested on suspicion of taking part in a Plano armed robbery late in 1973, and through a series of mixups and the inadequacies of the county jail system, was in jail for over two months without a bail bond hearing or a bath, and only one main meal a day—a TV dinner.

Miss Anderson's revealing story focused nationwide attention on the county's antiquated jail and pointed up the laxity in some areas of the county's due process system.

Since that time, Glover was released, then tried, found guilty and was sentenced.

Competing with Miss Anderson for the Katie award is Carl Freund of the Dallas Morning News and Bill Waldrop of the Dallas Times Herald, both of whom were named finalists in the Metro area-wide competition because of stories on the Fred Gomez Carrasco siege in Huntsville several months ago.

According to Bill Reed, general chairman of the contest, the winners will be announced and will be presented with "Katie" statuettes and cash awards during an awards banquet, scheduled for Friday night, Nov. 15 at the Crystal Palace Dinner Theater in Dallas.

Festivities Set For Homecoming

A giant pre-game barbecue catered by Dickey's Barbecue will kick off the 1974 edition of Plano High School's Homecoming festivities this evening.

Scheduled for 6 p.m. in the school cafeteria, the barbecue will cost $3.50 for adults and $2 for children under 12, with tickets available at the door.

Planned by Homecoming committee co-chairmen W.E. (Pete) Barnes and Mrs. Carmen Haggard, the barbecue will feature entertainment by the high school State Band, introduction of the Homecoming Queen nominees, then the cheerleaders will take over and conduct a mini-pep rally for the exes.

Being honored this year are the graduating classes of 1914, 1924, 1934, 1944, 1954, 1964, and 1974.

Following the barbecue and festivities, the main attraction takes place in Wildcat Stadium—the Plano Wildcats hosting the R.L. Turner Lions of Carrollton in what is considered by most District 13AAAA gridiron observers to be for the district crown.

Gametime will be at 8 p.m. and tickets will be sold during the barbecue for a special general admission section which will be available for those who do not have season tickets.

Look, Spot, Look

COSTA MESA, Calif. (UPI) — Anyone driving into R. J. Smith's service station who sees spots doesn't have a vision problem. That's the station.

Smith says that when he asked the oil company to repaint the station for him, a service representative told him "if I wanted it done I could do it myself."

"I asked him what color (they) wanted, and he said, 'How about polka dots?'"

His station is now adorned with mauve, black, yellow, lime green, puce, red, blue and offwhite polka dots.

"I kind of like it this way," he said. "Maybe they'll adopt it for all their stations."

Somebody Loves Her

DETROIT (UPI) — Rosie the zebra has learned the hard way that no matter what color your stripes are, animals are all the same.

Since her arrival at the Detroit zoo 13 years ago, Rosie has been a social outcast among her peers.

The female zebra attacked her and two males cut her right from the herd.

So Rosie turned to a different social set for solace.

The eland calves, tiny brown animals with long horns and thin white stripes, accepted Rosie as one of their own.

The rejected zebra has become the protector of the eland calf tribe, playing nanny to new babies and warding off strange animals who enter the exhibit where the calves are kept.

Robert Walker, her keeper, said she becomes so protective of newly born calves that it is difficult for the newborn to nurse.

The zebra once stood guard all night watching a young eland which refused to leave the yard. When Walker returned to work the next morning, Rosie stared at him until he entered the compound.

Walker said Rosie only wanted to make sure the keeper knew a newborn eland had drifted from its mother.

Unemployment Hits 6 Percent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Labor Department said today another 200,000 Americans joined the ranks of the unemployed in October and pushed the nation's jobless rate to 6 per cent, highest in three years.

The department said that two out of every three persons entering the labor market in the past year did not get a job.

A total of 5.5 million persons were out of work across the country last month, according to the report issued by the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The October figure represents a jump of two-tenths of 1 per cent from September unemployment and underlines warnings from economists of a deepening recession in the United States.

The unemployment rate last hit 6 per cent in November, 1971 and last exceeded 6 per cent 13 years ago in November, 1961, when it was 6.1 per cent.

Since October a year ago the jobless total has risen by 1.3 million persons. The labor force has grown by 2.1 million since last October, meaning almost two of every three job seekers has gone into the ranks of the unemployed during the year.

Two of the hardest hit industries in the slumping economy have been housing and automobiles. The contract construction job count was down 30,000 in October and brought the industry's job losses to 250,000 since a peak in February.

Slack activity in the automobile and related industries showed up in the unemployment rates for blue collar workers. Factory worker unemployment rates reached 6.2 per cent compared to 3.9 per cent a year ago when factory worker unemployment was at a 3 and 1-2 year low.

Adult men, particularly blacks, were hit hard by the increased jobless rate last month.

cheerleader, and Sigler was a science teacher, principal and coach. Sigler went on to become school superintendent from 1927 to 1961, then was director of business services in the district until 1968. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

By Sen. McKnight

4-Year Term Sought

State Senator Peyton McKnight of Tyler, is seeking re-election to his District Two State Senate seat. He was elected two years ago and is seeking his first full four-year term.

Because of his vast knowledge in the field of natural energy sources, McKnight, a 49-year-old Democrat, was named as vice-chairman of the Senate Natural Resources Committee. The great majority of legislation introduced by him was designed toward easing energy problems in Texas, while holding a tight rein on spending.

He also introduced and passed Senate Resolution 472, an effort to obtain fair market value for natural gas on State-owned lands. This resolution was originally estimated to increase revenue to the Texas Public School Fund by some $30 million annually. Later estimates from the Land Commissioner's office indicate that the figure could go much higher, even into the hundreds of millions.

In addition, Senator McKnight was responsible for increasing the price which the State Permanent University Fund receives for the sale of oil from old prices contracted years ago to current market prices of up to and exceeding $10 per barrel.

Senator McKnight served as a member of the State Affairs Committee and was a member of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee which was responsible for the passage of such major legislation as the Penal Code revision, and the Death Penalty Law during the 63rd session.

In commenting on his re-election bid, Senator McKnight stated: "From the comments I have received during these two short years, I believe the people of District Two are pleased with the job I have tried to do, and I am proud to serve them. I want to continue to be your State Senator."

McKnight is a native of Alba and a graduate of Quitman High School. He attended Texas A&M on the G.I. Bill of Rights after wartime service as a turret gunner on B-29 Superfortresses over Europe, in which he was awarded numerous decorations and seven battle stars. He received a BA degree in 1947 and later attended the University of Texas Law School.

He was appointed United States Marshal for the Eastern District of Texas in 1953 by President Eisenhower to become the youngest marshal in United States history.

He is married to the former Miss Ann Cade of Bryan. They are the parents of two married daughters, Molly, now Mrs. Charles Hodges, and Jane, married to William Ratliff. Both reside in Austin. The Senator and Mrs. McKnight were presented with their first grandson, Charles Peyton Hodges, in July of this year.

Verani Attacks Sugar Producers

BOSTON (UPI) — Massachusetts Consumer Affairs Secretary John Verani said Thursday sugar producers "may be acting as a cartel to raise prices artificially and unjustifiably."

In a statement attached to the Office of Consumer Affairs weekly market basket report of food prices, Verani said "the wholesale and retail prices of sugar have been raised dramatically in recent weeks."

"The large sugar producers have also recently announced extraordinary large increases in their operating profits. This combination suggests that the large sugar companies may be acting as a cartel to raise prices artificially and unjustifiably."

Verani urged the antitrust division of the U.S. Justice Department to step up its investigation of sugar industry pricing practices. He also urged consumers to decrease their use of sugar. The market basket report showed the wholesale price of sugar rose 39 cents this week for a five-pound bag.

Warning Given To Charismatics

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Baptist Convention has adopted a resolution warning of potential danger in faith healing and preaching in tongues.

The resolution offered by minister Billy Weber of Dallas asked "charismatics" to withdraw from the church but it was revised to warn them of the practice. Weber's father, Dr. Jaroy Weber of Lubbock, favored the tougher resolution.

"Any rabbi, priest or pastor, concerning those who so disagree with existing doctrine as to have caused discord in the church, wishes they (charismatics) would get right or get out," the elder minister said.

Minister Frank Brooks of New Boston, Tex., saw no need for the resolution.

"There are charismatics in my church, but there is no problem," he said. "I understand there are troublemakers in some churches, but I believe most of these are problems of personalities."

"They would be troublemakers anyway. I would be opposed to making this a basis of fellowship in our convention."

The convention delayed action on a resolution asking the legislature to reconsider its 1971 passage of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Mary Beth Applewhite, of Plano, Tex., said the amendment offered no protection for women and would allow homosexuals to marry. She said she favored equal rights for women but that each case of discrimination should be handled separately.

Q. Why does Collin County need these facilities?

A. In the past 30 years, population and all County government functions have grown two to six times, and we are presently the second fastest growing county in Texas. The present facilities, erected in 1874 and remodeled in 1927 are simply inadequate both in building space and parking to accommodate such a rapidly growing County. The present building cannot be economically expanded. MORE SPACE MUST BE PROVIDED.

Q. How was this plan developed?

A. Approximately 200 citizens from all parts of Collin County were called upon by resolution of the Commissioners Court, July 15, 1974, to study the needs and requirements for adequate Governmental Services and report back to the Commissioners Court. This plan, now approved by the Court, is the result of very thorough investigation and planning by twelve different committees comprised of Collin County citizens and voters just like yourself.

Proposition 1: "THE ISSUANCE OF COURTHOUSE AND JAIL BUILDING BONDS"

This proposition provides for $7,250,000 in bonds for erecting a new courthouse and jail for Collin County.

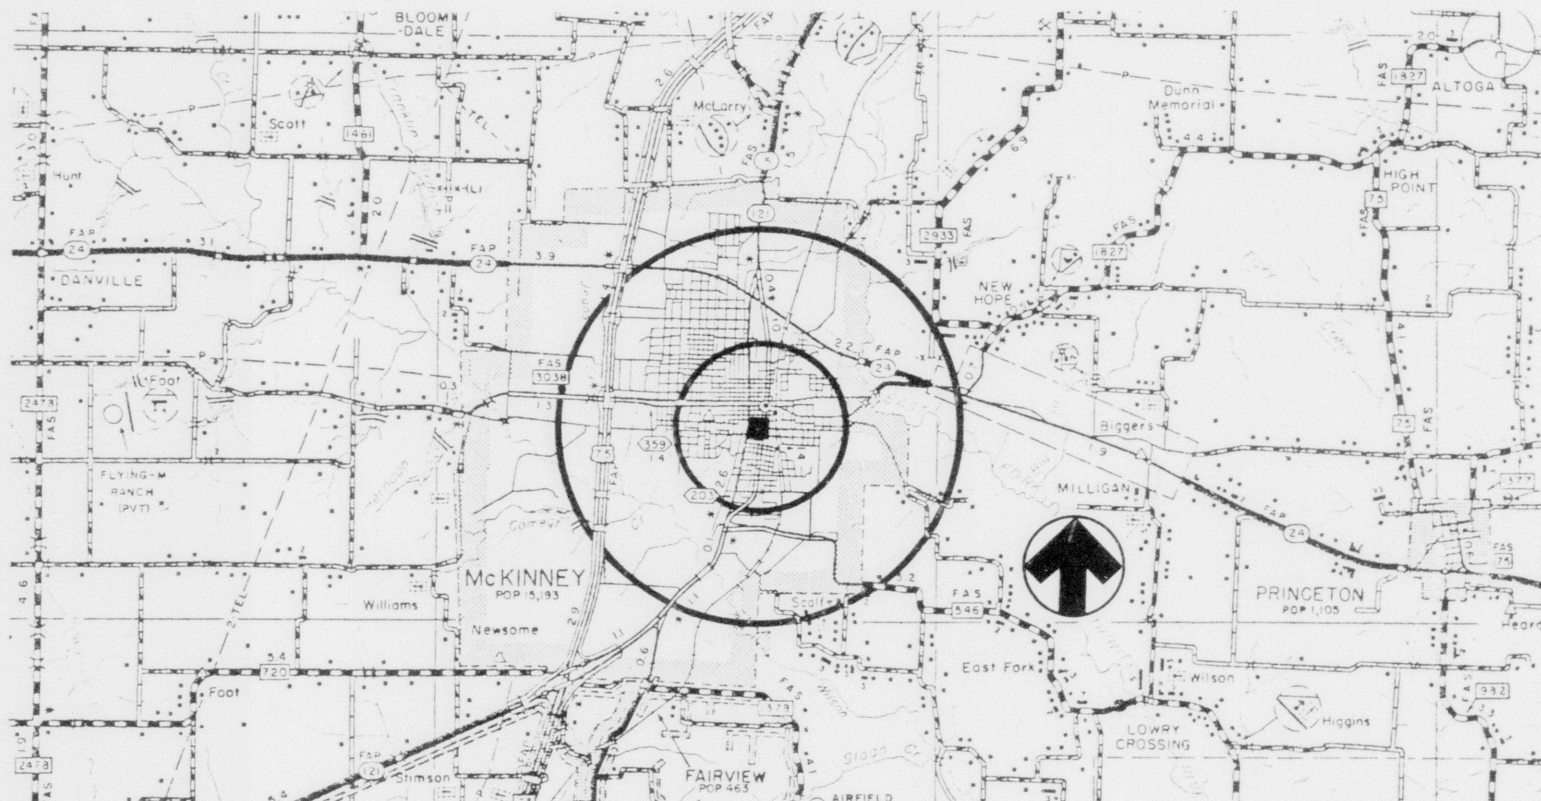

Proposition 2: "THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO REMODEL THE PRESENT COURTHOUSE AS A COUNTY OFFICE BUILDING"

This proposition further provides for $250,000 in bonds to renovate the existing building so that it may be fully utilized as a county office building.

These two propositions together are designed to provide Collin County with complete facilities to meet its needs now and through the great growth boom expected in the near future. Proposition 1, which is by far the more urgently needed, will, if passed alone, fail to make efficient use of the existing building. Proposition 2, if passed alone, would leave Collin County without courthouse and jail facilities necessary to meet the needs of its present and future citizens.

When propositions 1 & 2 are passed, additional funds will be made available out of existing permanent improvement funds for the construction of a courthouse sub-station in Plano. This sub-station will not be financed by the bonds to be voted on November 5th.

Architect's drawing showing the proposed new courthouse and jail facilities. The courthouse and jail will be of multi-story design, connected by a 2nd floor security corridor. Each is designed for future expansion by adding additional floors.

The primary site is approximately 5 acres, of which 2.7 acres will be furnished by the City of McKinney for joint city-county parking, and of which 2.2 acres will be furnished by the County for the courthouse and jail. An additional 10 acres, bounded by Tennessee, Cloyd, Wilcox and Anthony Streets, will be given protective zoning to prevent new development therein which is not compatible with the development of the Government Center.

Chorus Wins

Barbershop Competition

For the second consecutive year, The Vocal Majority, an 80-man Barbershop singing chorus from the Metro area won the annual four-state Barbershop singing contest in Dallas recently.

The contest, for both choruses and quartets, was sponsored by the Southwestern District of S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. (The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Baber Shop Quartet Singing in America) and The Vocal Majority-which has Plano members-came in first in a field of 15 barbershop quartets from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Taking second was the Tidelanders chorus from Houston, with San Antonio's Chordsmen chorus coming in third.

The general public can hear the Vocal Majority and several of the Dallas chapter's quartets at their next show on Nov. 25 at Granny's Dinner Playhouse.

Service Stopped On French Mail

Postmaster Billy Creed of Plano has announced that effective immediately an embargo has been placed on all classes of mail, both surface and air, destined to France, due to strike conditions in that country.

Postal customers should not send any mail to France until further notice. Any air mail received for France will be returned to the sender. All surface mail now in the Postal Service will be held pending further instructions, Creed stated, and mail returned to the sender due to the embargo will be endorsed "service temporarily suspended."

A customer having mail returned marked "service temporarily suspended" may make application at the Post Office for refund.

Even Greater Than Dallas

Plano Leads in New Homes

Plano led all cities in the Greater Dallas area in absorption of new homes in 1973-1974, according to a Dallas-based real estate research firm, which pointed out that 1,589 new houses and townhouses in Plano were occupied for the first time between Oct. 1, 1973, and Sept. 30, 1974, and Plano's new housing absorption was 33 percent greater than that of the City of Dallas.

"These statistics are the product of our 'Quarterly Subdivision Census' published as a service for builders and developers in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex," stated Paul C. York, Vice President of M-PF Research Inc. "The information is derived from an actual count four times a year of all activity in nearly 500 subdivisions in the Greater Dallas area," York said.

The Census also reveals that there are 419 completed and unoccupied new homes in Plano, up 23 units from a year ago, and only 330 homes are currently under construction, down 120 units from last year.

The area's top ten housing markets according to York, along with their total absorption of houses and townhouses are Plano, 1,589; Garland, 1,537; Carrollton-Farmers Branch, 1,406; Dallas, 1,194; Richardson, 780; Arlington, 733; Duncanville-DeSota-Cedar Hill, 523; Grand Prairie, 362; Lewisville, 360, and Mesquite, 336.

Also, according to the firm's 'Greater Dallas Area Apartment Survey,' Plano's current apartment occupancy, based on 1,415 units surveyed, is at 92 percent for the third quarter of 1974, up substantially from the March 1974 level of 85 percent. This survey is the third of four quarterly surveys by the firm to be conducted in 1974 measuring apartment occupancy in 23 Dallas County market areas, the Mid-Cities, Plano and Denton County.

"Over 68,000 apartment units were surveyed," noted Chris Baker, a consultant, "constituting a substantial 32 percent of more than 200,000 multiple-family housing units in the survey area."

POLLY'S POINTERS

Cloudy decanter won't clear up

By Polly Cramer

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I have two wine decanters. One is clear but the other is very cloudy. I have tried using ammonia, sand and alcohol but none had any effect on the cloudy decanter. I hope some reader can tell me how to get rid of this. Both decanters have very long narrow necks. It is impossible to get any kind of brush or cloth inside. — ELIZABETH.

DEAR POLLY — I shop in several different supermarkets. My Pet Peeve is that the "directory" signs designating the aisles where different products are sold are situated halfway down the aisle and so high up it is difficult to read them looking up at a light. I do not see why these signs could not be positioned near the end of the aisle and more nearly at eye level. — J.R.G.

DEAR POLLY — Maralee should be able to remove all that greasy grime from her hanging lamp chains with kerosene. Just dip a cloth in the kerosene and wring it out. I have never seen it fail with a bit of rubbing. One part kerosene and two parts water also will really make windows bright. — JVA.

GIRLS: Be very careful while working with kerosene. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — Wornout nylon hose are great for cleaning rings out of the bathtub. Cut off the foot, shred the rest of the stocking and then stuff it into the foot and tie a knot at the end. Nylon must be slightly abrasive as it is great for this and for cleaning other appliances around the house, even washing the car. Try washing dishes with it, too. The nylon rinses out clear and does not sour. — MRS.C.W.

DEAR POLLY — In these ecology-conscious days I answer simple business letters at home by replying on the back of the letter and am saved both time and money. — IRENE.

DEAR POLLY — I truly believe this world would be a nicer place in which to live if we all had the same outlook on life as a lady I knew some years ago. Each year she would buy 365 post cards and each day would choose someone who had done something particularly nice that day and send a card to the person expressing her appreciation or congratulations. The recipient might be a neighbor, a child, a member of her family or head of state.

In these days when criticism comes so easy to most of us such cards would be pleasant surprises to the recipients. My friend was not trying to be a Pollyanna but was only acknowledging the good in others. One always enjoyed being with her. We could all benefit from her outlook on life even without the cards. — BEE.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You have a tendency at present to say things without thinking. Although you will intend no harm, someone could be offended.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be a little more careful than usual with your possessions. Don't leave something lying around another may be tempted to carry off.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Indecision makes you very unreliable today. Focus on your problem and study it thoroughly. Once you make a decision, abide by it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're likely to presume or prejudice events today in a faulty manner. Try not to make assumptions based upon partial evidence.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't take at face value all the flattering remarks one you mix with socially bathes you in. Only half her heart is in her comments.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Excuses you make today won't hold water with others. Own up to your mistakes, rather than hide them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It won't help your image if you try to impress others as being knowledgeable about something when you know very little. Best you say nothing.

ATTITUDE COUNTS

There are two people in all of us . . . the person we really are and the person we could become. How sad those must be who belittle themselves by believing they cannot become a better person . . . a competent person . . . a more qualified person. With such a negative attitude failure is theirs. Attitude has to count. It is the key to the good things the world holds for us.

Of course people with negative attitudes are afraid to try. They feel to try is to fail. They bury their potential with weak excuses. They cover in corners.

One can be sure a negative mind will guarantee failure. It takes positive thinking and positive action. It helps to know God. Success is waiting for all those who know His will and follow it daily. He alone supplies confidence. He gives us strength. He helps us to stand tall when the going is rough.

Plano 8th Grade Teams
Teams Battle to 0-0 Ending

Wilson - Bowman Tie

Wilson and Bowman Junior High School's eighth grade football teams played for the Plano City Championship Wednesday and neither team was able to pull the rug out from under the other team. The game between undefeated Bowman Raiders and Wilson Rams ended in a 0-0 tie at a windy Rice Field.

Wilson had their game winning opportunities. The Rams blocked two Bowman punts.

Tim Grant got in front of a Bowman punt in the second quarter, giving the Rams possession on Bowman's 10-yard line.

"We just weren't able to score," Coach Maxie Watts said.

The Rams took four downs and reached the six yard line stopped by Bowman's defense.

Again in the fourth period Grant blocked a Bowman punt to give the Rams possession on Bowman's 20-yard line. This time the Rams drove to the one yard line before stalling out, where Kevin Jennings attempted a field goal with 20 seconds on the clock. The kick missed and the tie was preserved.

Tim Grant and Jennings played well. Coaches also credited the second and third teams with good defensive play.

Next week Bowman will be attempting to win the junior high district against Richardson Jr. High.

"The Raiders must play a good game to stay on the top of the district," Coach Hart said.

Meanwhile, Wilson will play against Northwood at Rice Field Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Standouts for Bowman on those goal line stands were Danny Lackey, Kevin Rush, Raymond McNeme, Tim Williams and Bill Ray Smith.

"Our offense did not score, however, we did move the football in the past part of the first half and the opening of the second half," Coach Hart added.

"Steve Ulmer, Wes Stover and Raymond McNeme all did good jobs running with the football," Coach Hart continued.

"It is a letdown to come out with a 0 to 0 tie, but we felt like the Rams did a great job," Coach Watts said. "All three Ram teams looked good."

Standouts for Wilson were Louis Gibson, Jennings and Mark Smith. Defensively

Rozelle Says Forget It to WFL

National Football League Won't Merger

NEW YORK (UPI) — National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle has issued a strong "forget it" to those World Football League fans hopeful of seeing their local franchises absorbed by the established league in the event of the new league's collapse.

"There will be no complete nor partial merger with the WFL," Rozelle said Thursday, taking the hard line toward the new league and its latest financial plight. "Nor will any of its teams be taken into the NFL."

"I say this very strongly and with complete certainty, even more certainly than I said it about the American Football League."

Rozelle's announcement came shortly after the word that Birmingham, long believed to be one of the strongest WFL franchises, was in financial trouble. Already the WFL has folded up franchises in Detroit and Jacksonville, shifted the New York and Houston teams and taken over the Orlando team.

While writing off any thoughts of absorbing the Memphis, Hawaii or Birmingham franchises from the WFL, Rozelle instead announced plans Wednesday for the addition of four teams to the NFL, two in 1976 and two more that year or later. That would bring the league to 30 teams.

Rozelle also said no WFL players would be allowed to jump to the NFL and play this season either because the WFL season ended or because they were otherwise free agents.

Plano Sets Sights on R.L.Turner

NATIONAL TAXPAYER GROUP PRAISES JIM COLLINS

Jim Collins received the fourth highest score among 535 Congressmen and the top score among Texans according to a survey by the National Taxpayers Association.

Plano and R.L. Turner will clash tonight at 8 p.m. in the first football meeting ever between the two District 13-AAAA teams in Plano's Homecoming.

Plano carries a perfect 7-0 record into the game and also the United Press International's number three ranking. R.L. Turner enters the game as the only 13-AAAA team capable of catching the Plano Wildcats, should the Carrollton team pull off the upset win.

Coach John Clark's Wildcats are rated 18 point favorites in the game by the Harris Rating System.

Carrollton Turner has a season record of 4-3, their wins coming over Sherman, Paris, Lewisville and Hillcrest.

Losses by Turner have come at the hands of Dallas Thomas Jefferson, Tyler John Tyler and last week by Denison.

Turner is much respected by Plano Coach John Clark. Clark said Turner is a well-drilled team under new coach Joe Crousens, who comes to the Lions from successful years at Athens.

Crousens installed the wishbone offensive attack upon arriving at Turner. From a defensive standpoint, Coach Clark said the wishbone will be tougher to defense than some other teams Plano has seen this season due to the throwing and running threats.

Turner is about the same size as Plano physically, however, the Lions have less men tipping the 200 lb. scale than Plano. Turner has only two players above 200 lb. and one of those is an all-district performer, Jimmy Ramos.

Ramos is Turner's stand-out defensive tackle and extra point kicker. The two-year letterman started as a sophomore and is quick for his 5-9 stature.

Turner also resembles Plano in team quickness. Turner's quickest men are Roy Morales at 10.4 and Steve Cagle at 10.5 in the 100-yard dash.

Both players were two-way starters last year. Morales at tailback and defensive halfback, and Cagle at tailback and defensive secondary.

Buddy Nelson is the quarterback for Turner and one of the better passers Plano will face in district play. Nelson, 5-11 and 170 lb., will be throwing to ends Rick Townsend and Rick Powell at 160 and 156 lb. respectively. Defensively, Turner is strongest at their linebacking spots in the 4-3 alignment. Top name droppers in the linebacker spots are Greg Morrison and Bryan Riddle.

Game time for the clash is 8 p.m. at Plano's Wildcat Stadium. The game will be aired live over radio station KMMK-FM, 95.3.

JIM COLLINS WORKS FOR BALANCED BUDGET

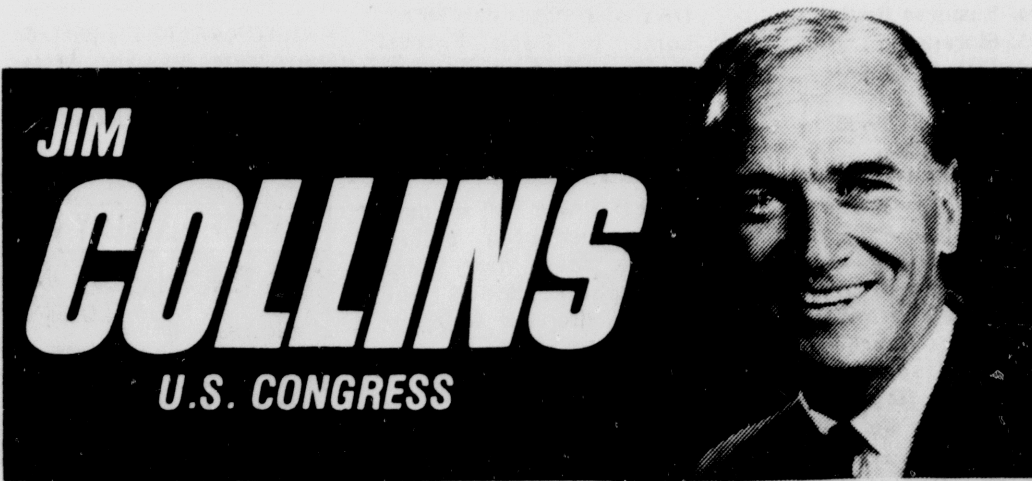

Jim Collins is one of the strongest opponents of the repeated Congressional overspending which is the cause of inflation. Collins' efforts to reduce government spending and balance the federal budget are nationally recognized. If the cost of living is ever to be brought under control, we must have more Congressmen like Jim Collins.

BIG GOVERNMENT
Jim Collins will work to cut both the cost and scope of government in Washington. He believes we have "too much government."

FOREIGN AID
Jim Collins will work for the complete elimination of foreign aid so that America can afford to maintain a strong national defense.

WELFARE
Jim Collins will work to cut welfare in half and eliminate welfare boondoggles so that we can build our reserves for Social Security.

BUREAUCRACY
Jim Collins will work to cut the bureaucracy in Washington. Jim Collins knows that when these steps are taken, the result will be a stronger America!

Rivalry Highlights 'Y' Basketball

Of all the rivalries in Plano YMCA sports, one of the hottest rivalries is on Thursday night at Mendenhall gym. Plano YMCA third and fourth grade girls basketball teams battle it out every week. There were only enough girls to have two teams, but that doesn't dampen their enthusiasm.

KMMK - FM To Broadcast Plano, Turner

Radio station KMMK-FM stereo of McKinney will broadcast the Plano Vs. R.L. Turner football game tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m.

KMMK-FM, located 95.3 on the dial, will broadcast the game live with sports director Tom Allen giving the play by play.

The District 13-AAAA game is homecoming for the Plano Wildcats.

With the teams evenly matched the game count is 2 for the Plano Trotters and 2 for the S-S Super Shooters, and 1 tie.

The Plano Trotters team is made up of girls from Weatherford, Davis, Meadows, and Memorial. The S-S Super Shooters team is made up of all Shepard girls except for one and she is from Sigler.

Each week the gym is filled with interested parents, brothers, sisters, and other interested spectators. The players show up with last week's mistakes corrected, improved shooting and newly learned strategies. All of the girls get the experience of playing both offensive and defensive positions.

These girls are a special breed of determined young people. They have learned sportsmanship, rules of basketball, and the Y philosophy as well as having fun and making friends from all over Plano.

Battle of the Undefeated

As the Barron and Mendenhall met Thursday night both teams were undefeated with a 5 win - 0 loss record. But both teams knew that some one would win and

Cardinal Win Sinks Dallas

BY JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

Don't look now but the St. Louis Cardinals can just about wrap up the National Conference Eastern Division race Sunday.

The Cardinals, the lone unbeaten team in the National Football League at 7-0, are in Dallas to face the Cowboys and a victory can just about do it as far as the NFC East is concerned.

St. Louis holds a three-game edge over both Philadelphia and Washington and a fourgame lead over Dallas, struggling along at 3-4. A Cardinal victory would leave them with at least a three-game edge going into the final six games of the season and only a complete and utter collapse could prevent the St. Louis from winning its first division title since 1948.

"If we're not for real, then we're real lucky," says Cardinal Coach Don Coryell. "If that's the case, I'd rather be lucky than real. But to be realistic, five of our games have gone down to the final minute, so I guess we could easily be 2-5."

But the Cardinals are 7-0, not 2-5, and Dallas will be fighting to stay alive.

St. Louis used two touchdown passes by Jim Hart and a 53-yard interception return for a score by Roger Wehrli to build up a big lead over Washington and then someone would lose. Mendenhall was victorious over Barron 11 to 8. It was an emotional game for the players and parents alike. The basket seemed to be impossible to hit as time after time the ball circled and bounced to the ground, failing to pass through the net. But Barron managed to get on top of the score at half-time but the final score was in Mendenhall's favor.

Past experience was the key to the hard battle as both teams showed their determination to be victorious. Each player was outstanding in his individual effort. Angie Smith scored all 11 points for Mendenhall in the last 10 minutes of play.

The second game of the night was between Shepard and Weatherford. Much excitement filled the gym as the girls played a very physical game with Shepard on top of a 10-9 score. The game put Shepard in 3rd place with Weatherford following in 4th. Both teams have shown much improvement and skill throughout the past weeks with the final test Thursday, Nov. 7. Outstanding players were each person on both teams as they proved that teamwork means success.

In the final game of the evening, Mendenhall outshot Wilson 14-6 with good effort shown by both teams. Wilson took an early lead but for the second time in the night, Mendenhall rallied to stay in the number 1 spot for team standings. Mendenhall's tough defense kept Wilson from scoring as their offense blazed the basket. As the young Wilson team grows with experience it will grow with strength which is gradually shown each week. Each girl received credit for a job well done.

In other games Sunday, Oakland is at Denver, Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, Minnesota at Chicago, Washington at Green Bay, New Orleans at Detroit, Cincinnati at Baltimore, Atlanta at Miami, the New York Giants at Kansas City, Cleveland at San Diego and Houston at the New York Jets. Los Angeles is at San Francisco Monday night.

Reagan Remembers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan met President Ford at International Airport Thursday with a large WIN button pinned prominently on his lapel. The President forgot his.

"Glad to see you got one, Ron," Ford said. "Look, I don't have one. I gave mine to Dave Stanley in Sioux City."

Stanley is the Republican senatorial candidate in Iowa.

This was the first time Ford has been seen in a campaign without his WIN button.

Oliver is Ill

BRIGHTON, England (UPI) — Actor-director Lord Olivier, director of Britain's National Theater, has been hospitalized for the past two weeks suffering from muscular inflammation, the Sussex Hospital said Thursday.

Olivier, 67, was listed in "fair" condition.

Bradley Was There

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mayor Tom Bradley may be a former police officer, but that didn't help much during a $1,300 bank robbery.

Bradley, a former police lieutenant, was in the bank lobby Thursday on a campaign visit and not aware of the robbery until he and about 30 customers were told of it by a teller.

Police said the robber entered the Bank of America branch shortly after the mayor arrived. The man simulated a gun, demanded money from a teller then fled through a back exit.

Kids Love Mayor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor Abe Beame took a walking tour of Brooklyn Thursday, in the midst of hundreds of trick-or-treaters.

At one point Beame was surrounded by a group of youngsters in Halloween garb clamoring for his autograph, prompting a lady to tell the mayor, "the kids love you."

"They're my size," responded the five-foot one-inch mayor.

Tracts of land for tax purposes in 1950, but the same land has now been divided into 50,794 separate tracts (1973 figures) with the tax office still housed in a 2,034 square foot space. An engineering study has estimated that the office needed 6,000 square feet in 1972.

In 1940, Collin County had only one district court which disposed of 333 cases; but in 1973 the 59th and 199th District Courts disposed of 1,700 cases, despite the inconveniences of sharing one courtroom with no air conditioning, poor air circulation, poor lighting, terrible acoustics and without adequate exits. Each court needs at least 3,000 square feet, according to the consultant's report.

This is the third time during the past four years that the question of a new courthouse has been before the voters. In 1968 it was defeated by a 8,472-3,589 vote and again in 1972 by a 2,566-2,279 vote, but proponents of a new courthouse seem confident that problems contributing to the failure of the elections have been resolved.

No Abandonment

Voters apparently were concerned in past elections that the courthouse would be moved and the present structure abandoned, but under the present proposal the existing structure would be fully utilized for county offices and related state and federal agencies.

The proposed site of the new courthouse, within easy walking distance of the square, is located in a 14-acre tract bounded by State Highway 5 on the east, Tennessee Ave. on the west, Davis St. on the north and Anthony St. on the south.

The county plans to purchase 2.2 acres for construction of the courthouse jail while the City of McKinney will furnish 2.7 acres to be used as joint parking facilities. The city will also provide protective zoning to prevent incompatible development.

In Open Market

By ROBERT D. INDERMAN

DALLAS (UPI) — The flatbeds and pickup trucks begin lining up on the church parking lot at dawn. By afternoon the wooden crates that earlier held cucumbers, cabbages and cantaloupes are empty.

There's plenty of consumer demand when corn sells at eight cents an ear and watermelons can be bargained down to a few pennies a pound.

"But, man, everybody benefits," Tom Joyner said. "Both the buyer and seller."

The open air market has become a weekly affair in the black communities of Dallas and Fort Worth.

The farmers and produce salesmen who hawk their vegetables and fruits at wholesale prices each Saturday work under the banner of the Black Community Market, a nonprofit project run by the employees of KKDA radio.

"We're just a black radio station trying to become a good one," said Joyner, who initiated the project several weeks ago. "We want to serve our community in a lot of ways. This is just one."

Joyner said the idea of an open market without middlemen started one night while discussing inflation and the cost of food with friends.

"Food, particularly produce, is higher in the black communities than it is in the white communities, and it's not as fresh," he said.

"What better way to help the people in your area than getting them good food and as inexpensively as possible?"

One problem was where to set up the markets. Local churches provided the answer.

"The parking lots were a natural for the type of market we were trying to promote, and the churches helped spread the word of what we were trying to do."

"I mean at first nobody would trust us. They were saying, 'Why are you doing this if there isn't any money in it for you? What are you getting out of this?'"

"It wasn't too long until they grasped that we were for real, that we were trying to get everybody together for the benefit of all," he said.

The Black Community Market began with six locations spread out across the city, then expanded to nine the following week, including two in Fort Worth.

Scholarships Available In Construction

Scholarships are now available to students and prospective students in the construction management technology program at Richland College, according to Director of Financial Aid and Placement Frank Gornick.

The Dallas Associated General Contractors has given a $952 scholarship check to finance students seeking a degree in the field. The scholarship will enable students to study under the two-year program at Richland, which is designed to lead to an associate in applied arts and sciences degree.

Prospective applicants may call 746-4488 for information.

"The people buying at the Black Community Market are saving money because the prices on everything is at least a few cents cheaper than at the local grocery--and it's fresher."

Occasionally meat goes up for sale at the market "and one group brings in fresh fish each week," he said.

"You notice it's called a community market -- not just a farmer's market or a producers' market," Joyner said.

"Right now we're selling food. Tomorrow we hope to expand and become kind of a flea market where everyone in the community can bring in their wares and sell without going through a middleman."

Happy Birthday, 'Press'

TV Show Celebrates

By FRANK S. SWERTLOW

NEW YORK (UPI) — The best way to keep a wily politician honest is to keep questioning him. He may not answer, says Lawrence E. Spivak, host of NBC's "Meet the Press," but the audience will get the message — there is an artful dodger on the loose.

"I think its the nature of the questioning," said Spivak, "and the kind of reporters you have who will come back again and again."

"I also think you have to depend on the intelligence of the people watching. They'll get the point soon enough. A politician may try to talk all over the lot, but if he doesn't convince the audience, then what he says is hogwash."

Spivak, 74, has had his share of politicians, statesmen and celebrities on his unrehearsed interview show, which marks its 27th year on the television this Sunday. The first TV guest was James A. Farley, the former postmaster general and chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Others who met the press were Richard M. Nixon, Golda Meir of Israel and poet Robert Frost.

"I would have loved to interview Churchill before he died," said Spivak. "Oh, yes, and De Gaulle and Hitler and Stalin, but we did have his daughter."

During the many years that the Washington-based program has been aired, first on radio and then television on Nov. 6, 1947, Spivak has seen politicians come and go. But during the last few years, he and his revolving panel of guest reporters have noted a change in the calibre of politicians.

"I really don't know if it is the medium of television that has done it," he said, "but there has been an upgrade in the quality of the members of the House of Representatives. I think the recent House Judiciary hearings on impeachment are a perfectly good example of this. A lot of people were surprised how well they performed."

"I also think that there has been an upgrading in quality of mayors. These men are college educated, law school, and they really are very able and bright young people. They have a great interest in the quality of the cities."

How influential is "Meet the Press," the world's oldest network TV program? "I really can't make that judgement," Spivak said, "it would be too self-serving. But the fact that we have survived in a medium that is not noted for survival says something."
